COUNTY, FROM 1A

minute executive session was held with the two commissioners and Colburn. There was no further discussion when they returned to the open meeting.

Colburn noted that the next step for the new building is to have the concrete under the old shop removed. Rudman informed Colburn about an area on Section Line that needs attention. Prockish asked Colburn to check on W Road, along with other roads he had been called about during the past few days. Colburn also reviewed the area roads the crew has worked on that were discussed at prior meetings.

Emergency management director Adam Bryant attended the meeting to have the commissioners sign a grant application. He also told the commissioners he received the console pieces for the weather stations.

Clerk Laura Montgomery spoke to the commissioners about her computer issues. She has two quotes for new computers. Rudman will look at her computer before any action is taken.

During their reports, Rudman stated he would attend a Redbud Village Board meeting later in the week. He also noted that he visited with the Plainville City Council about the Neighborhood Revitalization Program, asking them for suggestions or revisions when it is time to renew the program.

Prockish said he also visited with the Stockton City Commission about the Neighborhood Revitalization Program and asked for their input. Both he and Rudman said they discussed a county-wide committee to review the revisions before the program's renewal. Prockish also noted an upcoming golf tournament and that the car racing season had ended.

The commissioners decided to hold the next regular meeting on Wednesday, September 30th, to work on payroll and end-of-month vouchers and set up interviews for the highway supervisor position.
